THE JOY OF FAITH People who look on Bible religion as gloomy and joyless would do well to study the Book of Psalms. It is worth note that in this one book of Scripture the words "joy," "joyful," "glad," "gladness," "rejoice," occur more than ninety times. The Faithful sees the rainbow in the cloud, and hears the Savior's voice in the storm.

Joy is a feeling, yes. But it's also a confident abiding in the vine, which is Jesus (as laid out in John 15). It's knowing that all of our life derives from the vine. But it is also the future expectation that everything is going to be okay as we draw life from the vine— no matter our circumstances.

How Do You Define Joy? | Bill High

“ Consider it all joy, my brethren, when you encounter various trials, knowing that the testing of your faith produces endurance. And let endurance have its perfect result, that you may be perfect and complete, lacking in nothing” (James 1:2-4). If we are not yet like Paul, he calls us to be.
